PRESENTATION SKILLS

Do your key people have outstanding presentation skills?

Your organisation cannot succeed without your people. If they can't present to and influence others, you can't be assured of optimum performance.

Presentation skills are vital in both formal and informal situations.

Most people are not comfortable as natural presenters.

Fear of public speaking is second only to fear of death for most people.

We're not taught these presentation skills at school nor in tertiary education institutions, so unless your key people have developed good presentation skills, the success and results of your enterprise are in jeopardy.

Presentation Skills

This two day 8 STEP Presentation Skills enhancement session provides your people with a set of practical presentation techniques, tools and approaches that anyone can use to significantly improve their presentations.

By emphasising the engagement of the whole person in the presentation (body, mind, emotions and spirit), this approach is very different and arguably unique in its depth and breadth of coverage.

Participants learn to:

- 1. Prepare for outstanding presentations
- 2. Optimise their effectiveness in any presentation location or environment
- 3. Impress people even before speaking
- 4. Read and work with an audience to maximise the impact of their presentation
- 5. Structure the content of a presentation for optimum influence
- 6. Use rapport and questioning skills to communicate the message
- 7. Handle difficult people in an audience
- 8. Inspire emotional responses from an audience whilst delivering the message
